INTRODUCING THE FRONTLINE HEROES TOKEN

The cryptocurrency world is changing the way people think about the utilization of currency in real-life measures. The world and many demographics are adapting and realizing this momentum. There are even many financial institutes, businesses, and organizations that are now profiting, accepting, and utilizing cryptocurrency in their specific business model.

There are many charity projects underway on many platforms, exchanges, and blockchains. Although there are success stories, it was time to put a specific tokenomic to the benefit of the community, specific to the demographic of our Frontline Heroes.

Do you or do you know someone that works in a profession that serves their community? Is that person a Firefighter, works in a Healthcare System, EMS, Dispatcher, Law Enforcement, or any branch of the Armed Forces?

I am one of those people. I have family and friends that work within those professions. Did you know that statistically, in all the mentioned professions, mental health issues are on the rise? Did you know, the compound stress of the profession mixed with having a child with a disability or even having a disability of their own can be more stressful than the job itself?

Do you know how many of our Frontline Heroes, as I call them in the professions I mentioned, have had injuries, suffered depression, mental health issues, or have even attempted or committed suicide? All of which has had a great impact on performing their duties at work, preventing them to return to work altogether, and /or causing a financial burden on their family. I envision a place where anyone from these professions can come to seek help whether it be obtaining help to obtain adequate resources for a mental health issue, gaining access to a service or support for themselves or a child with disabilities, or financial assistance with rent, groceries, etc.

I want one place that “Supporting those that Serve” means something. I want to give back, be a support group, and a place to bridge the gap in a time of need for our beloved Frontline Heroes!

OUR FUTURE

Who are our frontline heroes? At the Frontline Heroes Project, we believe it is those individuals that serve their communities by working in the fields of EMS, Fire, Police, Dispatchers, Healthcare workers, and our Military Family! There will be three areas of focus to provide resources. Supporting our Frontline heroes or their children with special needs, providing mental health resources, and bridging the gap specific to those that are in need with financial assistance. While there are many charitable organizations available and specific to one or even a project that has a reach to multiple demographics within the world today, we felt the need to take it a step further. The Frontline Heroes Token felt led to make a project that could fill the gap and have the mindset of a “One for All” attitude. We strive to be the one place that any of our Frontline Heroes can come to seek help. Many households have two of these demographics, so would it not be a more perfect world to be able to go to one place for resources specific to their need?
